Inspiration

“It is about creating a moment of calm amidst the chaos, where designers are exploring ideas of privacy within public areas and reassessing use of space in interiors.”

“As we seek a place of refuge and comfort, let’s celebrate emotional connections to everyday objects as our personal time and spaces become ever more precious.”

“Seeking a place of refuge and comfort, this trend uses a palette that is rich and timeless.”

“With a finely crafted approach to pure materials, the trend plays with materiality to build greater emotional connections between user and object, and detailing to create a feeling of subtle luxury.”

“It is experimental and full of energy as it creates a sophisticated clash, and more specifically how it is applied, reveals the mark of the maker’s hand.”

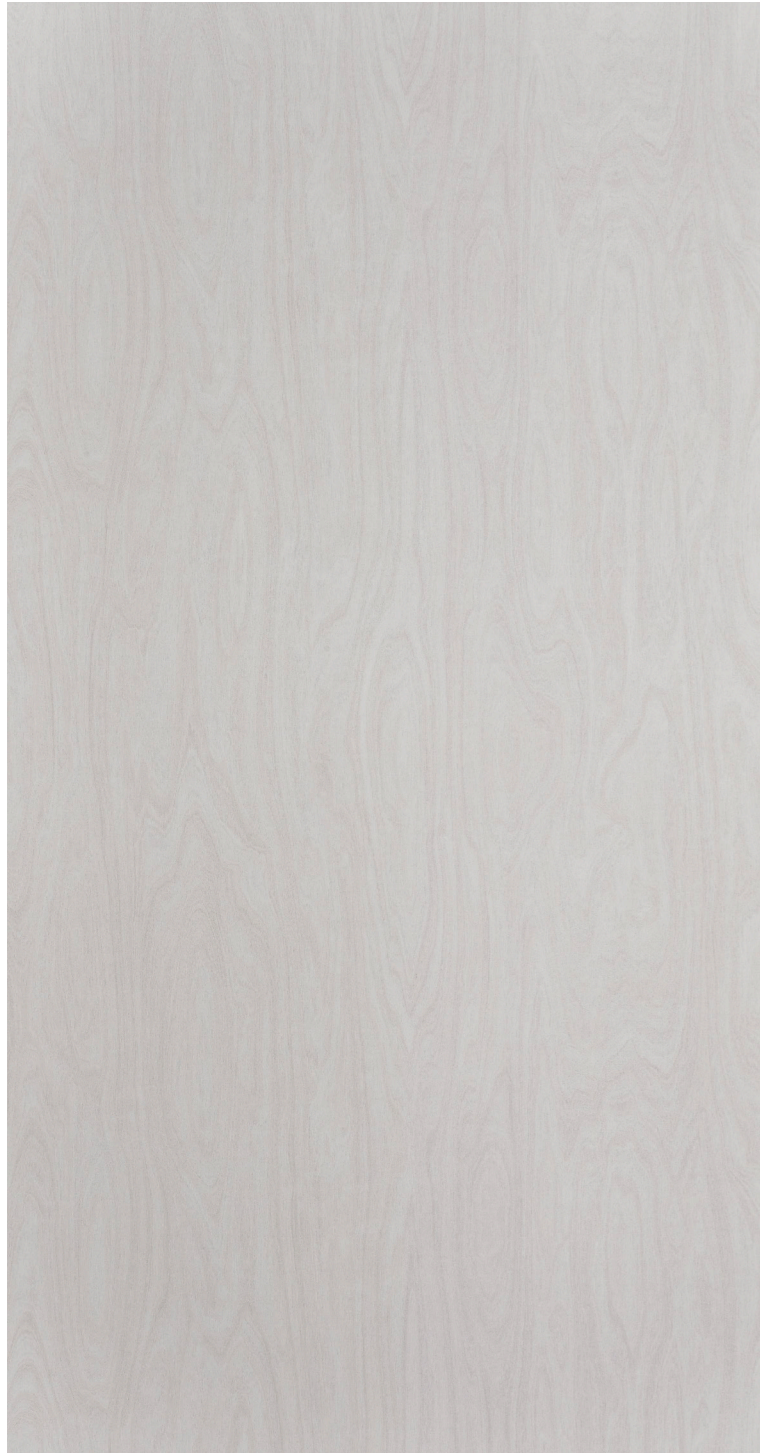

“Brimming with creativity, break the boundary with a feeling of energy and optimism.”

“It is where art meets design; inspired by the theories of artists and designers from the past. Let’s cut through the technology-driven aesthetics of recent times, and take a low-tech approach with a free hand style.”

“Colour layers are put on in a free, confident fashion. A breakthrough way to represent materials artistically.”

“It is about enhancing nature’s resources; this trend explores new sustainable colour and material.”

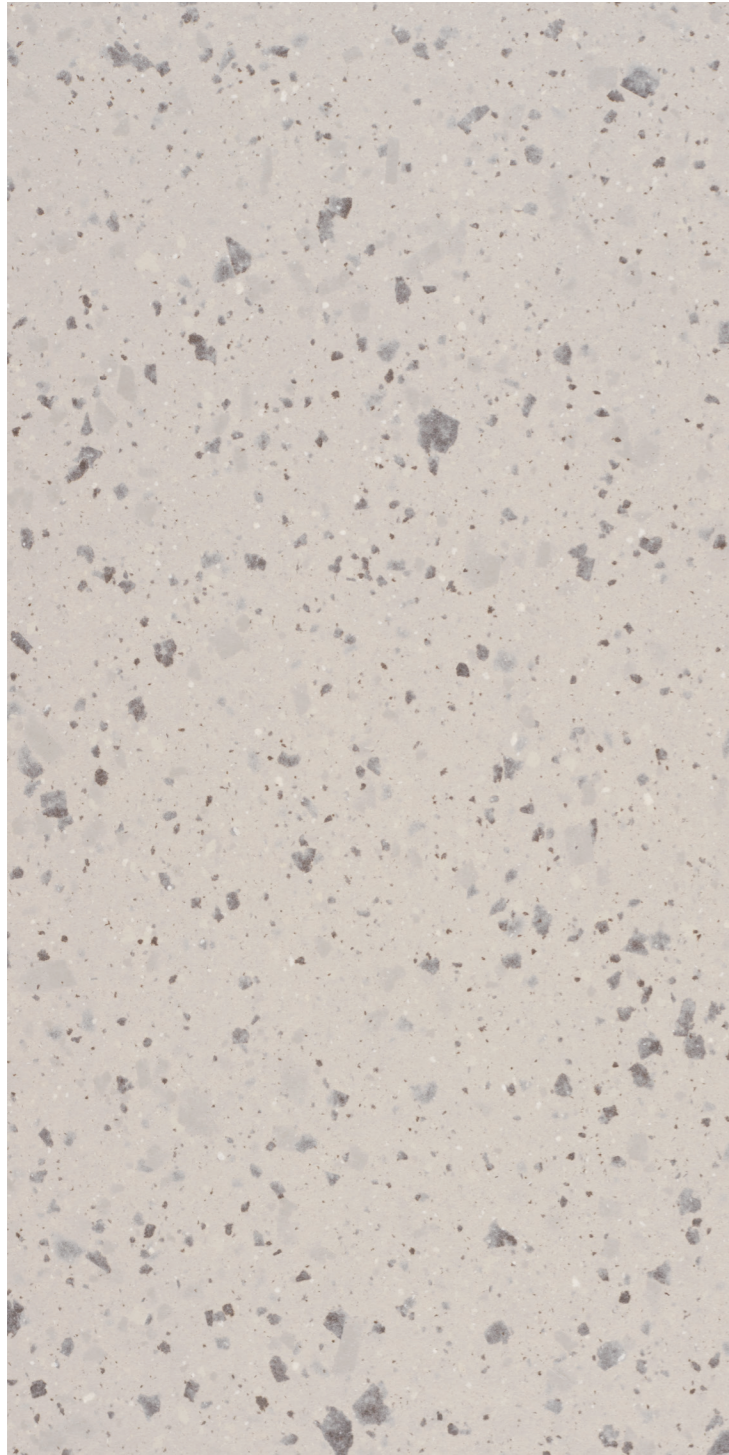

“With future generations and resources in mind, man and nature collaborate to scientifically enhance and refine natural resources by harnessing new sustainable materials, colour and energy with an entirely new path.”

“Material inspiration comes from inherent colour derived from natural materials.”

“Designers manipulate desirable qualities of both natural and synthetic materials to create never before seen smart bio-composites. A waste-less attitude is developing and new technology is used to re-evaluate what we throw away.”

Purified

Purified Future consists of mainly whites and neutral colour tones, which exudes a sense of refined elegance.

Highlight: While laminates are inherently flexible, Kerfing gives laminates an increase in material flexibility, allowing it to make curves of varying radii through the spacing of the laser-cut perforations. This allows the laminate to create fine, undulating surfaces to form a flowy shape that mimic the softness of curtains, while still retaining the physical properties of laminates.

This design concept would be suitable for lounge areas in shopping malls, offices and hospitals.

Nature

CELEBRATION

is a banquet of green and healthy elements amongst everyday life.

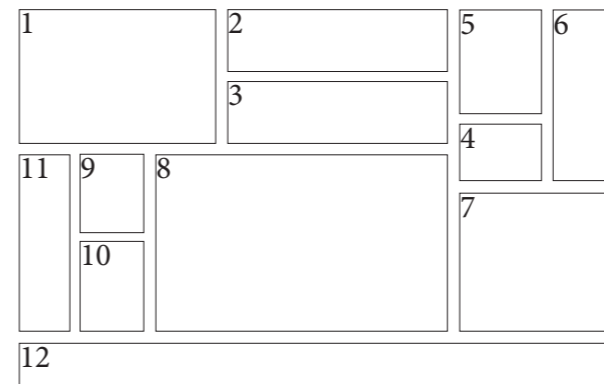

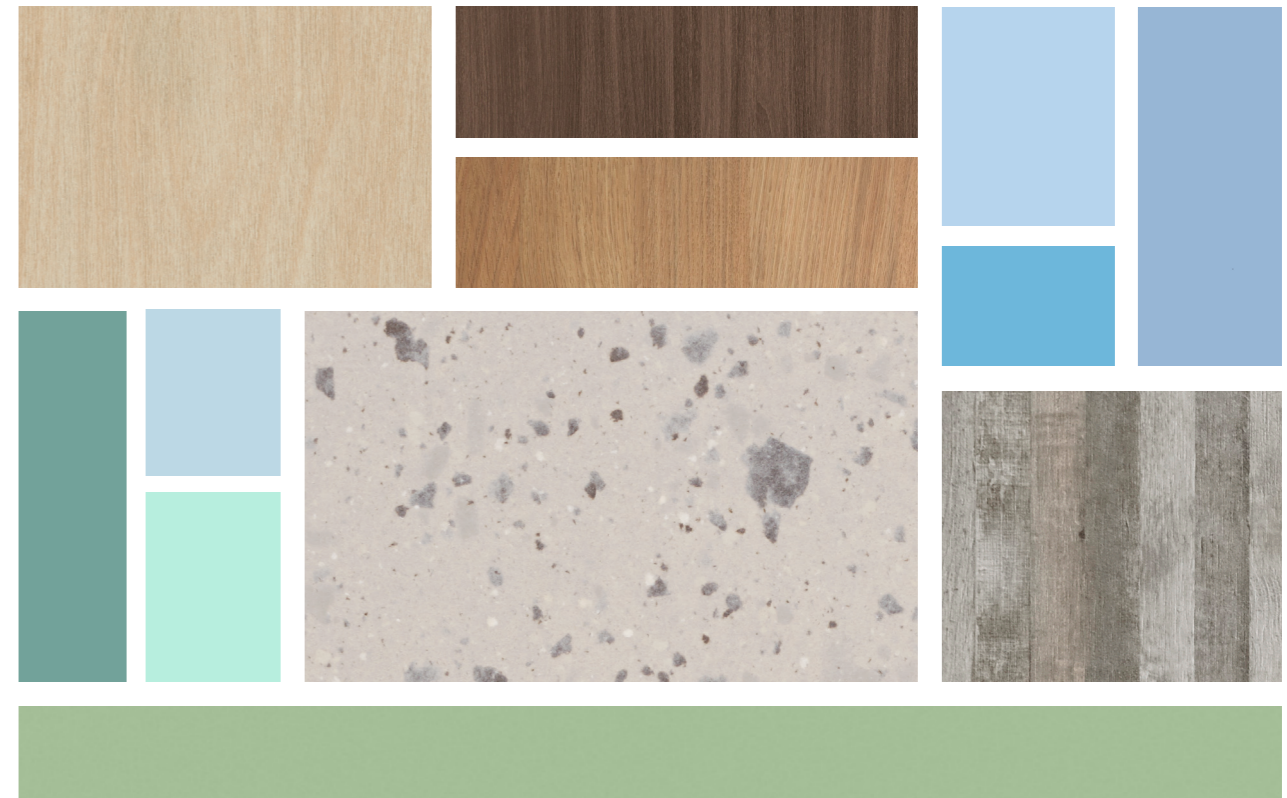

Nature Celebration is an earthy style with light-mid tone wood grains and healthy fresh tones.

Highlight: With sustainability now an everyday consideration, recycling must go further to address concerns surrounding the environment. This Terrazzo wall is made from scrap materials from Formica production papers.

This design concept would be suitable for retail outlets, public spaces, hospitals and schools.

Cultural Ease uses warm, earthy tones to create a humble and stress-free environment.

Highlight: The stacking of pre-cut pieces of laminate onto a full sheet allows it to be used like a tile, making the fabrication of a feature wall as easy and seamless as piecing up a jigsaw puzzle.

This design concept would be suitable for hotels, private clubs and restaurants.

Artisan Beamwood

Refined Classic is the perfect combination of western and eastern influence, where we combine the usage of warm metallics against earthy neutrals.

Highlight:
 Coffee Wall – the cutting of pre-determined crease lines allow the laminate surface to form intriguing folds when squeezed together, creating a landscape of controlled hills and ridges.
 Seat Backs – Cutting away the top surface of the laminate after bonding to a substrate reveals the original colour of the substrate to create contrast. With this technique, it is possible to create simple groove lines or more complex CNC-milling of patterns to suit the environment.

This design concept would be suitable for cafes, public areas and hotels.

In Ancient Heritage, we can see the usage of close colour tones with different materials.

Highlight: Mounted onto a substrate before perforating to shapes, we have freed laminates from the constraints of being merely a covering. By CNC-milling of patterns, you can create bespoke screens to divide space into separate distinct areas.
